Book Review Rocky River 'Riters

Leaving time by Jodi Picoult

The story is centred around accomplished scientist Alice Metcalf and her relationships with her husband, daughter, co-workers and her passion, elephants. Alice disappears and her husband is in care. Her daughter, Jenna, reaches thirteen and decides now is the time to find out what happened to her mother. She enlists the help of a psychic and a detective, both who have had personal problems of their own. It is an intense story about love, loss, betrayal and friendships and is written through the eyes of the characters with a unexpected outcome.

Jodi Picoult has done for elephants what Herman Melville did for whales. This story is powerfully written and is thoroughly researched, and incorporating elephants and their behaviour in the story is a stroke of genius.

Jodi Picoult is the best selling author of twenty-three novels. In many of her gripping dramas, she explores the big issues of our time, such as domestic violence, euthanasia, suicide, repressed memory and organ transplant, through characters whose lives resonate with us. Her unrivalled ability to immerse us in a story lingers with us long after the final page has been turned.

Authors who write similar to Jodi Picoult are -

- Diane Chamberlain
- Barbara Delinsky
- Jacquelyn Mitchard
- Heather Gudenkauf
- Lisa Genova
